GE's D-Day Ahead

Factory Opens Here Monday

Next Monday definitely will be D-Day for Circleville. Production in this city's new $2.5 million General Electric Co. is scheduled to get underway on that day.

It will be on that day that a memorable bit of Pickaway County history will be written although its import may not be fully appreciated for months or years.

It will be the complete manufacture of the first GE Slimline lamp by Circleville people in the Circleville plant.

It will not be the first GE Slimline to come out of the Circleville plant, however.

Burning brightly on a test block for the last several days have been a half-dozen Slimlines turned out by the engineers of the GE plant here as they completed installation of machinery.

Edward Grigg, plant manager, beams with pride when showing those first Circleville Slimlines.

HE UNDOUBTEDLY will keep the first one to come off the line—just to stand it along-side Circleville Slimline No. One Million, etc., as time passes.

First crew of local employees is to start actual production Monday. Some of them already are on the GE payroll.

Within the last week, 26 Circleville area persons have been employed by GE as the skeleton force which will get production underway.

They augment a group of nine local persons who already have been on deck awaiting D Day.

First of the 26 employed was Paul F. Smith of 200 West Main Street, who was assigned to the maintenance department—no small job considering the size of the sprawling factory.

Next came Carl W. Seymour of 466 East Franklin street, retained as a machine adjuster.

Helen Walters of Circleville Route 2 has been employed as receptionist while Charles L. Carter of 352 East Mill street will be record clerk for GE's general foreman.

James B. Trimmer of 525 East Franklin street has been employed as a boiler operator in the big heating plant area which will provide comfortable working conditions for the factory.

Charles W. Barnes of Stoutsville Route 1 and Earl McClain have been employed as watchmen—the first official "men in blue" to be retained by GE to keep vigil over the $2.5 million outlay.

Divorce Mill Fight Backed By Lawyer Group

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—The New York City Bar Association today pledged full support of District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's probe of the city's divorce-mill racket.

Paul B. DeWitt, bar association secretary, emphasized that legislation to "remedy some of the evils" that go hand-in-glove with divorce mills has been sought since 1945.

De Witt said that the association wanted to eliminate "what has come to be recognized as a scandal growing out of widespread fraud, perjury and collusion."

Meanwhile the probe widened with the New York state supreme court decision to permit the district attorney to examine past divorce suits.

Two more unidentified women who acted as the "lady friends" of divorce-seeking husbands were questioned by the district attorney.

Six persons already have been arrested in the crackdown, and the status of many divorces have been thrown into doubt.

Assistant District Attorney Charles A. McDonough declared, however, that the investigators probably will examine records filed during the last five years. Some 22,000 decrees were granted in that time.

A NERVOUS KISS is bestowed on Cleo Yoder, 32, of Muscatine, Iowa, by his wife Margaret, as "Old Gold," their heavy-chested Aberdeen-Angus is chosen grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. The 1,200-pound champion Thursday sold for an all-time record price of $10.75 a pound—or about $12,900. It was bought for a Houston, Tex., hotel.

250 MARAUDERS ATTACK

Michigan Seeks Justice After Raid By Unionists

KALAMAZOO, Dec. 2—Michigan Gov. Kim Sigler demanded swift justice today for the marauders who descended on Kalamazoo's Shakespeare Co. plants in military fashion wantonly destroyed property and attacked workers.

The governor ordered immediate steps toward organizing a one-man grand jury to investigate yesterday's 250-man raid, pledging all state resources to maintenance "of law and order."

State police and Kalamazoo County deputies joined local police in patrolling the area—where a dozen cars were overturned, plant windows were beaten and factory machinery was damaged.

The factories involved are the Shakespeare Products Co., and the Shakespeare Co., fishing tackle manufacturers and auto parts.

The CIO called a strike Sept. 7 to enforce demands for contract changes. A wage demand is not an issue.

THE MICHIGAN liquor commission ordered all liquor dispensing establishments—including private clubs—closed as a further safeguard against mob violence.

Sigler and State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard ordered every precaution against a new uprising when they made a hurried flight to Kalamazoo from Lansing and surveyed the destruction.

The raiders bore down on the plants in 30 cars, moving three abreast in tank formation, and systematically carried out their riotous mission in slightly less than an hour and a half.

Police said many invaded the plants and beat up workers who failed to join the United Steel Worker strike.

Kalamazoo Police Chief Howard W. Hoyt said some were from as far away as Indiana.

CATTLE THEFT Case Is Aired

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—Cattle rustling has sprung up today in the east, East Fifth Avenue in Columbus, that is.

A trucker, who admitted "at least 18" livestock thefts valued at more than $3000, described to Franklin County criminal court his part in the mechanized setup.

Robert S. Boyles, 44, truck driver and mechanic, told the court he hauled cattle on orders from John M. Stewart, 51, a stock buyer for the F. Wilke Co., the firm which reported the cattle were stolen.

Boyles, who is awaiting sentencing after pleading guilty, became state's witness in the trial of Stewart. He said he took the cattle from the Wilke Co., to the Herman Falter Packing Co. He testified he cashed checks he received, then gave Stewart the money.

THE NEW Anglo-American Holy Land policy demands, in effect, that Israel give up either part of the Negev or all of Western Galilee. It proposes to set up a conciliation commission which would decide Israel's boundaries within this policy.

Sherbok argued that the commission should "be true to its name" by seeking only agreement between Arabs and Jews.

Tax Take OK

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2—The one-half percent pay-roll-income tax produced $1,944,638 for the city of Columbus from its enactment in May to the present date. The total exceeded estimates by some $70,000.

No UMT Bill Due In Next Congress

Democrat Leader Claimed Cool On Idea; Big Air Arm Wanted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—A Democratic leader indicated today that no attempt may be made at the next session of Congress to enact Universal Military Training.

Rep. Vinson, (D) Ga., incoming chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, announced that he will not ask his group to consider UMT legislation.

Vinson declared he favors peacetime compulsory military training and supported UMT legislation during the last Congress. "But," he added, "if Congress does not appropriate sufficient money to raise the Army to the strength as set forth in the Selective Service Act for the regular establishment, it becomes ridiculous to think of trying to inaugurate a Universal Military Training program which would require additional billions."

"I THEREFORE shall not ask the armed services committee to consider UMT during the next session of Congress."

The Army announced Tuesday that due to lack of funds it was reducing its January draft call from 20,000 to 10,000 men and its February call to 5,000. Original plans were to step the calls up eventually to 30,000 men a month.

The reduction was taken in accord with President Truman's announcement that a $15 billion limitation is being placed on appropriations for the military establishment for the 1950 fiscal year.

The House armed services committee approved a UMT bill vote in July 1947, but the House leadership blocked it from being taken up on the floor.

The measure provided for one year of training for youths aged 18 through 20.

In his formal statement, Vinson made these pronouncements:

1. There will be an investigation of reports of bickerings among the armed services unless unification becomes "an actuality." If necessary, "we may have to knock some heads together" or new legislation may have to be enacted.

2. He will not ask his committee to consider enactment of UMT at the next session of Congress.

3. The Selective Service law will have to be extended. It expires June 24, 1950.

4. The committee will "insist" on a minimum peacetime Air Force of 70 groups—"not on paper but in being."

5. Congress should enact "at once" a basic law setting forth "the equipment and manpower necessary" for the Army and Air Force. The Navy already has such legislation.

6. Congress should strengthen (Continued on Page Two)

CONVERTED TO BUDDHA

Priest Says Tojo Writes Peace Message For World

TOKYO, Dec. 2—A Buddhist priest disclosed today that Hideki Tojo has left a "peace" message for the world and is "grateful" that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has proclaimed a "day of prayer" on the date of the war crimes executions.

The priest, Nobukatsu Hanayama, said that Japan's "Pearl Harbor premier" has dictated a last message to him pleading to the world for peace and emphasizing the futility of war.

Hanayama said he will release the text of the message after the executions of Tojo and six other war criminals take place.

The hangings of the seven condemned major Japanese war-makers have been delayed pending action on appeals before the United States Supreme Court.

Hanayama told reporters that Tojo, awaiting execution in Tokyo's Sugamo prison, "is now a completely changed man."

The priest said the wartime Japanese leader embraced the Buddhist faith six months ago and has "lost his belief in war."

HANAYAMA said Tojo was pleased with MacArthur for "preventing a Nuernberg spectacle by forbidding pictures of either the executions or the bodies."

The priest said Tojo has dropped the aggressive Shinto religion and no longer believes the Japanese emperor is god-like, Hanayama added.

"After his conversion, his attitude toward the emperor changed. He no longer thinks the emperor is divine, although he favors the emperor system for Japan."

Hanayama also claimed he has converted to Buddhism all seven of the condemned Japanese war leaders.

Warren Wreck Site Cleared

WARREN, Dec. 2 Service over the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad south of here was expected to return to normal today after a passenger-freight train crash injured five crewmen.

An official investigation into the collision between the diesel-powered New York and Chicago express and a 63-car New York Central freight train last night was scheduled to begin Saturday.

The five injured crewmen were brought to St. Joseph's hospital here and released after treatment. None was seriously hurt.

Too Many Boy Friends For Wife

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 2—George W. Taylor, 54, testified today that his 66-year-old wife had 18 boy friends during their 23 years of marriage.

Taylor made the allegation in resisting a suit by Mrs. Taylor for separate maintenance. Mrs. Taylor charges cruelty.

Commies Plot Poll Disruption

BERLIN, Dec. 2—Col. Frank S. Howley accused Russian-sponsored Communists in Berlin today with a "long record on inhumanity, terror and brutality." He promised they will be "brought to justice" some day.

At the same time the U. S. military commandant in Berlin raised the question as to whether it is "worth the trouble" of the Western Powers to try to solve the Berlin deadlock with "people who have broken all international agreements."

Almost as Howley spoke a new incident threatened when Communist police prevented departure of a British army truck loaded with files and documents removed from the Communist-held city hall.

A British liaison officer, Col. Henry Whiteford, lodged an immediate protest with Communist Police Chief Paul Markgraf.

HOWLEY, speaking at the Communist-backed rump city council met in secret session after its dramatic coup of Tuesday, told a news conference: "The 364 question is this: Is it really worth our trouble to get a new agreement on Berlin with those people who have deliberately broken all international agreements?"

The secret session of the illegal Soviet-sponsored municipal council was reported drafting a campaign of disruption against city elections to be held in the (Continued on Page Two)

Tree Lights Ready For Store Trims

If Circleville's downtown area does not shimmer with many colored lights, it will not be the fault of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber officials are urging merchants to decorate Christmas trees placed in front of their establishments last week.

They said they have approximately 75 strings of lights stored in John Magill's West Main Street store, and local merchants may use those for decorating—at no charge.

There will be enough lights on hand to employ one string on every tree.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. riggers Thursday toured the downtown district setting out plug-in lines for the convenience of the merchants.

IN ADDITION to putting up the lights, local businessmen have been asked to add to the decorations with gift-wrapped boxes and bangles.

The electric company has promised to furnish lighting facilities for all of the trees, including four large evergreens stationed at the intersection of Court and Main streets.

Magill, in charge of decorations for the Chamber, said the organization probably would extend four strands of laurel from the traffic light at the Court-Main intersection to each of the large trees.

western sectors of Berlin Sunday.

There were reports of projected militant action by the Communists in an effort to impose red rule over the entire city.

Such plans were reported going forward despite the announced intention of the United States, Great Britain and France to take whatever action may be made necessary by the Communist assembly coup.

Delegates of the Western Powers attending the United Nations assembly in Paris served notice that they reserved full freedom of action in view of the illegal nomination by Communists on Tuesday of their own mayor and a city council.

The Communist propaganda machine opened a "war of nerves" in an effort to discourage Western Berliners from voting Sunday.

Results of this election, being held under Allied auspices to choose a new and legal assembly, are expected to represent a public rebuke to the Communist regime in the east.

Soviet agents started a whispering campaign, threatening reprisals against Berliners who cast secret ballots in the Sunday polling.

BERLIN residents are being told that when the Russians take over all of the city at some future date, all those who voted in Sunday's election will feel Communist wrath.

At the same time rumors of coming street riots are circulating. All are obviously designed to frighten Germans from the polls.

United States officials said that the Soviets are increasingly afraid that a giant turnout of voters Sunday will offer incontrovertible proof that the German population opposed Communist policies.

Meanwhile, the legal city assembly gathered to consider its next move in the current "state of emergency" decreed yesterday.

It was thought that until the Soviet-backed rump government takes definite action against legal officials, nothing can be done but ignore it.

Western currency experts were drafting plans to make the West's Deutschmark the sole legal tender in the Allied sectors of Berlin.

While this will further lessen chances of a compromise on the currency deadlock, it was forced on the West by Soviet action in sponsoring the new puppet administration.

Armed pro-Communists yesterday invaded the western sectors in an attempt to break up an election rally of the anti-Communist Christian Democratic Party (SPD). Ten persons were arrested in the clash.

School Chiefs Book Parley

Pickaway County school superintendents and coaches are to double up their schedule Thursday evening by holding a twin meeting in Monroe Township school.

Superintendent of Schools George D. McDowell said superintendents would hold their regular monthly meeting at 4 p. m., followed by dinner and a meeting between superintendents and coaches.

The meetings usually are held on separate nights as two different functions.

Alimony Sought In Divorce Case

Suit for support and alimony has been filed in Pickaway County common pleas court by Stella Cochenour against her husband, Earl Cochenour, on grounds of gross neglect and extreme cruelty.

Her petition claims Cochenour sold all property except a car, truck and household furniture and informed her that he was leaving and that she must make her own living.

The couple has four children, one of which was living with them. They were married Sept. 7, 1926, in Cattlettsburg, Ky.

Democrat Chiefs Eye Applications For Open Jobs

At a meeting in Pickaway courthouse Wednesday evening, the county Democratic executive committee received a handful of applications for positions to be vacated as the defeated Republicans leave office.

No definite decisions were made on any position, according to Karl Herrmann, chairman of the committee.

He said about 15 applications were made for various jobs which will go to the victorious Democrats.

Another meeting will be held Dec. 15 when definite decisions are probable.

Kerrmann urged persons interested in making applications for positions to contact the panel before the Dec. 15 session. He said the committee is uncertain as to the number of positions which will be available as the result of the changeover in administrations.

Why Dutch is Growing a Beard

That beard on Dutch Miller's chin doesn't mean that he's getting ready to play Santa Claus. He's simply paying off the election bet he lost to Cappy Swanson.

And while some folks allow it's all a lot of nonsense—like the wheelbarrow ride that Cappy had to give Dutch after last election day—from where I sit, it's a mighty wholesome aftermath to a difference of opinion.

Because good Americans all take their politics and voting mighty seriously. But when the issue's settled, and the die is cast, they accept the verdict in a spirit of good humor.

And that's as it should be when it comes to any difference of opinion. Some folks vote for beer as their favorite beverage—others vote for cider. In fact, we all have differences of taste in almost everything! But that doesn't mean that we can't live together in a spirit of good fellowship.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health! Read What They Say!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS. Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO drugs, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength, and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in GEO-MINERAL: 1 bottle $1.19, 6 for $6.00. ## New Trial Asked In Accounting Of Farm Deal

Motion for a new trial has been filed by Harry Morris in Pickaway County common pleas court where a $524.26 judgment was returned against him in a suit for an accounting.

Don C. Bartholomew, administrator for the Emma C. Bartholomew estate, launched the suit. His petition declared Morris failed to render a correct accounting on a sale of livestock, grain and crops.

The two men allegedly entered a contract in January 1941 and which terminated March 1944 under which Morris was to manage and care for the chattels and grain belonging to Bartholomew.

Under the contract, Bartholomew's petition claims, Morris was to act as tenant of a 301-acre farm in Perry Township which was under the administration of the plaintiff.

At the time all livestock, grains and crops were sold, Bartholomew claims to have asked for an accounting. His petition declares Morris' figures were incomplete.

capital has moved from Nanking where she left it.

While officials are adamant in their decision of regarding Europe as having first priority, they have not abandoned China completely.

They have not abandoned Chiang and his government though they privately admit that they regard his handling of the military campaigns as incompetent. If they are silent on the current situation, it is because any statement that might be made is being withheld because it might embarrass the pioneer liberal leader of his country.

Non-Support Case Dropped

Prosecuting Attorney Kenneth M. Robbins has dropped the case against Charles Winland of Tarilton who pleaded innocent to a non-support indictment returned against him by Pickaway County grand jury.

Winland was indicted in September and on arraignment declared his innocence. He was placed under $500 bond.

Development Of Alaska Is Readied

Economic, Military Bulwark Is Seen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — Secretary of the Interior Krug disclosed today that the Truman administration is "ready to roll" on all-out development of Alaska as an economic and military bulwark.

Krug pinpointed the Interior Department's chief objectives for the coming four years.

He declared that with a "friendly congress" in power, 1949 probably will see Alaska and Hawaii admitted to the union as the 49th and 50th states. The secretary added:

"We're really ready to roll on the economic development of Alaska. We plan complete rehabilitation of the Alaska railroad, construction of a huge road network, and projects designed to tap vast storehouses of mineral and other resources."

"The time has come for establishment of many basic industries in Alaska—such as pulp and paper plants."

"The Interior Department is working hand-in-hand with the military on the Alaska program. The territory is vital to our national security."

"OUR EXPERIENCE in World War II proved that it must be populated, that communications facilities must be created, and that it must be made economically powerful."

Krug indicated that Congress will be asked to open Alaska's gates to thousands of European displaced persons.

He pointed out that many DPs are fitted by reason of national background and vocational training, to live healthily and prosperously in Alaska.

Before Abilene, Tex., instituted a permanent rat control program, a local mail order store lost about $1,000 per year from the rodents damaging rugs, blankets, mattresses, comforts and upholstery.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BLOODMOBILE HERE DEC. 20

County Soon To Be Set With All Blood It Needs

Citizens of Pickaway county soon will enjoy the benefits of a constant supply of whole blood plasma and other blood derivatives.

This will be made possible through the local Red Cross Chapter's participation in the Red Cross National Blood Program. A bloodmobile from Columbus will visit Circleville Dec. 20 for a one-day collection of blood, according to Karl C. Johnson, chairman of the blood program committee.

Under the Red Cross National Blood Program, blood is to be given voluntarily by local donors during scheduled visits of the mobile unit traveling out of Columbus, where a peacetime Red Cross blood center has been opened.

Blood thus collected will be processed in the laboratory of the center and returned for use in saving lives.

Dr. Harry D. Jackson, chairman of the medical advisory committee, stressed the need for an adequate supply of blood, plasma, and the derivatives today.

THE NATIONAL Blood program of the American Red Cross is one of the most important peacetime programs ever inaugurated by the organization," he said. "It became common knowledge during the war that blood could and did save thousands of lives. Since the war medical science, through research, has discovered additional remedial benefits provided by blood derivatives.

"Thousands of Americans need blood transfusions every year. Many times the cost for blood is prohibitive to most families and frequently rare types are unobtainable. The Red Cross National Blood Program provides this needed blood at no cost to the patient. However, there may be the customary laboratory charge by the hospital and the professional fee of the physician for his services.

"Blood obtained from donors here will be returned to meet community needs first of all.

"Some of the blood will be made into plasma and other derivatives for use throughout the nation in time of disaster and in locations which do not have the facilities, as yet, for the National Blood Program," he added.

Chairman Johnson pointed out that it was essential for donors to call the local Chapter of the American Red Cross to make an appointment for the donation and to receive specific instructions. The local quota for the first visit is 100 pints of blood.

Blanching or scalding vegetables immediately before quick freezing prevents loss of flavor and color, and makes certain that the vegetables keep their food value during storage.

County Ex-GIs Have Been Paid Half-Million

A total of nearly $500,000 has been paid to some 1,721 Pickaway Countians under the World War II Compensation program, according to James P. Snea, county service officer.

Shea said Thursday that a total of $499,918.62 has been received in the county by veterans and next of kin to deceased veterans.

This means that an average of $290.48 has been awarded to every applicant having received compensation to date.

According to the records, a total of $420,796.26 has been allotted to 1,403 claims from Army veterans, or an average payment of $299.64 per claim.

The same figures reveal that a total of $79,122.36 has been allotted to 316 Navy claims, or an average payment of $250.38 per claim.

Shea said the claims office still was flooded with irregular claims, those which were improperly submitted or lacking in certain documents or information.

Applications may be filed until June 30, 1950.

The United States Coast Guard rescued more than 5,000 persons during one year, and saved or protected in the same operations property valued at more than 160 million dollars.

OPEN SEA

SUBMARINES which are unidentified, therefore presumably foreign, of late have been sighted with fair regularity in waters near American shores or United States possessions. The other day one was reported in the Gulf of Mexico twenty miles off Corpus Christi. Although nothing was seen except what may have been a periscope and its wake, reporters were able to conclude that there was an "ultra-modern" submarine cruising in the Gulf.

It is wise to maintain a sense of proportion about such reports. This is especially so since Americans are being kept in a constant state of tension anyway, by events in Europe and Asia.

There is nothing in either law or custom to prevent foreign warships from approaching our shores at the pleasure of their commanders. This applies to submarines as well as to surface vessels, though when they are running under water we are naturally inclined to think they are snooping. In the war the Navy demonstrated that it can hunt down submarines and identify them at least well enough to classify them as friends or foes. It could do so now with a submarine in the Gulf of Mexico, for instance. But the sub, once identified as foreign, could not be chased out of the Gulf, unless we want to make an international incident.

It was Mussolini in Italy who got the idea that the Mediterranean should be "Mare nostrum"—"our sea." His mind was changed for him. The Gulf of Mexico is not our sea. Neither is the Atlantic nor the Pacific. Those waters are open to the ships of any nation which wishes to sail them.

SMALLER CITIES

WHEN realtors strive to make cities smaller, that will be news indeed. At the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Gayle W. Arnold of the National Security Resources Board urged his hearers to help break up the big cities and move industries to smaller towns. Only dispersion will save our plants from being blasted by future enemies, he said.

If a city has less than 50,000 people, says Arnold, or measures less than five square miles, and is surrounded by about 10 miles of relatively open country, it is safe. No nation will have enough atomic bombs to use them on such small targets.

That is some comfort, but not all residents or industries of our big cities can get up and move on a minute's notice. Maybe we should look for some other way to save civilization from atomic destruction.

The Greeks were a great people, but their language is sometimes remembered for the unnecessary use of long words, and this should be a lesson to us.

These Days

American imperialism has been achieved as a by-product of war and without the consent of the American people. It is because the American people have neither a tradition of imperialism nor a national desire to meddle in the affairs of other countries that the policy of this country is uncertain, unfocused, experimental and at times meaningless.

For instance, no country which anticipated an expenditure of $5,000,000,000 a year for the purpose of maintaining a bloc of friendly states in Europe would have issued JCS 1067, which paralyzed the industry of Europe and which hampers, if it does not prevent, the arming of Europe.

In a word, because of JCS 1067, we are forced to employ the Marshall Plan to help reconstruct what we agreed should be dismantled and we shall have to contribute an even larger sum to arm the countries which cannot arm themselves because we knocked down and permitted the Russians to dislocate the principal arsenals of Europe.

It does not seem possible that such a paradox could have been policy. In spite of the discovery of our errors, we continue to make them. For instance, our policy concerning the Ruhr should be to require both France and Western Germany to find a program for joint economic development of the Ruhr. It does not make sense for us to contribute tremendous sums to both countries if they will quarrel over an iron and steel industry which is essential to both. If they cannot agree on essentials, why should we underwrite their quarrels?

Yet, both can point to the ridiculous order JCS 1067 which directed General Eisenhower to "Take no steps (a) looking toward the economic rehabilitation of Germany, or (b) designed to maintain or strengthen the German economy." The cost of this order to the American taxpayer is calculable only in billions of dollars and that cost can only be lessened by restoring productive efficiency to the Ruhr.

Similarly, as regards China, the United States at Yalta recognized Soviet Russia as the successor to Japan's rights and claims in Manchuria. In 1915 when Japan issued the Twenty-One Demands, the United States was the first to reject them. Again, when the Japanese repeated that at the Paris Peace Conference, we rejected them except for the Shantung clauses. Again when Japan occupied Manchuria on September 19, 1931, we issued the Stimson Doctrine of non-recognition and we were prepared to intervene in partnership with Great Britain—a partnership which Sir John Simon refused on behalf of his country. The Far Eastern War did not begin at Pearl Harbor but has been in the making more or less since 1911 when the Japanese took umbrage at American racial discrimination.

Yet at Yalta we agreed to give to Soviet Russia—which was then neutral so far as the Far East was concerned—the Japanese rights and claims in Manchuria. At that moment, the United States pursued a policy which sooner or later would reduce China to the position of Poland or Rumania. As long as Russia holds Manchuria, no independent government can maintain itself in China, just as when Russia holds Shanghai the Philippines become imperiled.

So far as the United States is concerned, this lack of a yardstick of policy, this opportunism, this hit-or-miss diplomacy, this failure to measure American policy by American interests may finally isolate us more than anything any America Firster proposed.

publican of more liberal views.

Martin regards the minority leadership as a thankless job. But he has let it be known that he will not "run out" on his party. He will insist, however, that other GOP leaders take some of the work load off his shoulders.

The whole question will be threshed out at a conference of House Republican bigwigs immediately after the Christmas holidays.

● LABOR PAPER?—One result of labor's increasing activity in the political field is revival of talks about establishment of a daily, nation-wide labor newspaper.

Union chiefs are beginning to weigh the project seriously. They view such a medium as an important adjunct to labor's campaign works.

The proposition got an airing among delegates to the AFL convention. Reception was favorable. John L. Lewis, boss of the powerful United Mine Workers, strongly supports the idea.

Backers of the plan want a newspaper competing on the newsstands for reader attention, covering all news, not just labor developments. Region editions would blanket the country.

Chief stumbling block is labor's present disunity. The AFL, CIO, and various independent unions would have to back such a journal.

● DEFENSE HEADACHE—First big headache—and one that must be cured—for the new secretary of defense will be the perennial bitter battle between the Navy and the Air Force.

James Forrestal, who will retire, could not stop the bickering. He tried hard, but the roots were too deep, the "battle lines" too rigid. Regardless of the controversy's merits, it appears that the Navy may be squelched if the Defense job goes to either Louis Johnson, former assistant secretary of war, or Ferdinand Eberstadt, Wall Street efficiency expert.

Best information is that both men believe military unity can come only with absorption of naval aviation by the Air Force.

The Air Force claims the Navy is trying to steal its prime function of heavy bombardment. The Navy claims it needs bombers and carriers to carry out its mission of keeping sea lanes open and supporting amphibious operations.

Air Secretary Symington has participated so actively in the public name-calling that he probably will be replaced.

DIET AND HEALTH

One Good Reason Why You Need an Annual Health Exam

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE of the many reasons why each of us should have an annual health audit is to be sure that the great filtering plant in the body—the kidneys—are in good working order. One of the disorders of the kidney is brought about when stones form in them.

Fortunately, in recent years, a great deal has been learned about kidney stones which may be made up of different types of chemicals.

Calcium Oxalate
For example, some contain calcium oxalate. These are the most common stones found in persons in the United States. They may also contain calcium phosphate, uric acid, and cystine, which is an amino acid. Most stones are made up of a mixture of these various substances.

Oxalate stones are small, dark, rough, and hard; calcium phosphate stones are small, white, soft, and chalky; uric acid stones are small and usually quite yellow in color, and cystine stones have a waxy appearance.

Cause Unknown
Exactly why kidney stones form is not definitely known as yet, although many scientists are working on this problem. However, there are some who believe that they are formed around a small bit of material. This may come from a deposit of calcium or lime salts in the kidney from the blood. Thus, any factor which speeds up the elimination of salts through the kidney would tend to cause the stone to grow rapidly. These factors include blocking of the flow of the urine, prolonged rest in bed and the drinking of too little water, infections of any kind in the kidneys, the taking of insufficient fluids, and excessive sweating.

Other factors may be related to the excretion of large amounts of lime salts through the kidneys. For example, a disturbance of the glands in the neck, known as the parathyroid glands, may be a factor. Large doses of vitamin D will cause a temporary increase in the amount of calcium in the urine. Then, too, a marked deficiency of vitamin A may be responsible.

Symptoms of kidney stones consist of pain, often with fever and chills. The diagnosis, as a rule, is not difficult. Often, blood is found in the urine. Many of the stones can be seen in the X-ray plate.

In treating the condition, if the pain is severe, and it usually is, some opiate is often necessary. It is important, if there is infection present, that such preparations as penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs be given.

Sometimes a stone can be removed through the cystoscope, which consists of a tube with a light. The instrument is passed into the bladder and then another instrument, called the catheter, is passed upward into the ureter which passes from the kidneys into the bladder. If the stone cannot be removed in this way, operation is necessary.

To prevent recurrence the patient should drink plenty of fluids and the diet should be low in the substances from which the removed stone is formed, for example, oxalates. Any blocking of the flow of urine should be corrected, by surgery if necessary, and infections should be overcome by proper treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
G. T.: What causes brown spots on the skin along the spine? Could this be due to tuberculosis?

Answer: This condition is not due to tuberculosis; the exact cause is not known.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

THE DAY went off like an ordinary Christmas but it was not ordinary. When Mrs. Colwell took Dave up to the lavatory to scrub his hands of the remains of a melted chocolate Santa Claus, strive as she would and did for discretion, she could not silence a tentative comment.

"Mr. Acheson is very nice, isn't he, Dave? Do you like him very much?"

Dave regarded her solemnly. "He's going to buy my new daddy," he announced with bland formality.

"Yes, I know. I think that's very nice."

"My other daddy isn't coming home any more."

"No. He isn't coming home."

Dave felt that further elucidation was required. "All little kids has got to have a daddy," he told her kindly.

Mrs. Colwell hugged him against her so that her eyes were hidden. "Yes, darling. You're right. Kids have got to have daddies. Mommy needs them, too. Hold your fingers apart, honey! Dear me, that must have been a big Santa Claus! Just look! Part of him has run clear up on your nice clean cuffs."

When all the guests had gone, Christmas night settled in with dull quietude. Jean and Alan Colwell admitted to some weariness, a pleasant weariness, but they were tired. It had been a grand day, just grand. Everything had gone off perfectly. The dinner, delicious; the gifts, exquisite; the guests, delightful; the tree, the handsomest they had ever had. Still, they were a little tired. It couldn't be, could it, that they were getting along toward the oldish side of life?

They professed genuine pity for poor Donna, who had to hurry along to more excitement, confusion and gaiety. They thanked heaven they had reached the state of life when they could settle down and relax if they wanted to. And they wanted to.

Donna, for the first time, was secretly delighted that she had so loyally promised to rally to the amusement of St. Allison. Miriam, by letter, had relieved some of her doubt about their plan for his social regiment. Miriam had written to correct any possible wrong impression she might have given about Jigger's brother. According to Jigger, St. was a swell guy and not at all piggyish with the money he had inherited. So, Miriam assured her, he couldn't be such a bad egg after all and they might have quite a nice time with him. But she did hope he would take Jigger into business with him, whatever business he went into. It would be lovely, she wrote, to have both ends meet—for the first time—when we have the new baby.

Her pen seemed to bear down more heavily on the final brief paragraph and Donna interpreted it as an instinctive gesture of emphasis, though nothing was underscored.

"And we're not putting anything over on Mark, either. Jigger told him you had promised to stand by in our crisis and Mark didn't object at all. He said you always were a swell sport in crises. It must have been answer to prayer, Donna. We'd never have dared ask you to do such a thing if you hadn't broken with Mark."

Donna amused her parents by exaggerated puzzlement over how suitably to garb herself for this tentative approach, having, as she said, no slight notion whether his taste ran to slick chicks, sophisticates or intellectuals. They laughed at her suggestion of a compromise. Say blue bobby sox, exotic make-up and horn-rimmed spectacles, playing up the three obvious extremes. They acquiesced eventually that it was the part of wisdom to tackle him dead cold, absolutely in the natural Donna, and then, if he did not take to her normal type, she could pretend that it was merely an assumption designed to impress him and that she was quite a different girl at heart.

In the end it was very easy. Miriam rushed her upstairs to remove her wraps, hugged her dishevelingly and whispered ecstatically, "Donna, he's wonderful! He's marvelous! He's as nice as Jigger. The Jug is crazy about him."

"Does he like the Jug?"

"He seems to. He hauled him on the sled and made him a snow man. And he brought us the loveliest presents!"

"Has he said anything about the business?"

"Oh, no! Not yet! Miriam was plainly shocked. "It's all good clean Christmas fun so far. But that's what he came for! I don't know why he doesn't just set himself up in charge of one of the businesses he's already got, with Jigger as his assistant, but, no, he wants to start something on his own. And Donna?"

"If you aren't going to—well, take a fancy to him, don't lead him on. Not too much anyhow. Don't do to him what you did to Mark. That would turn him against us because you are our friend."

"Now just what is it you want, Miriam? Shall I be nice to him or not?"

"Oh, be nice to him. Very nice. But not too nice. Don't make him fall in love with you if you aren't going to love him."

"I see. I am not to let him fall in love with me until Jigger gets him tied up to an ironclad contract."

"Oh, you make it sound so mercenary, Donna. I don't mean that at all. I just mean—well, be careful. That's all. Be awfully nice to him. But be careful."

Donna found it easy to be nice to him. He was more than willing to be pleased.

At first sight, his large face with broad, good-natured features under a tousled shock of dark hair seemed ill-fitted to his long, loose-jointed body. Donna gazed at him in frank fascination. This was Jigger's brother. Jigger had not been born into their select little coterie. Miriam had met him—the others never knew the exact details of the meeting—when he was struggling with his first job after college. She had been his introduction but from the first he had fitted, fitted to the queen's own taste. Jigger was so handsome that he had immediately been dubbed their "ad" copy boy.

"I must say you brothers do not look much alike," she commented.

St. Allison beamed happily. "I see what you mean," he assented. "You're right. Jig got all the looks in the family." Then he added glee-fully, "But I got all the dough! I'll bet Jig wouldn't mind swapping."

"You're darn right I wouldn't mind," Jigger said heartily.

Under adroit questioning, it appeared that St. Allison liked everything: bridge, poker, gun rummy; music, theater, dancing; sports, indoor and out, sun and snow. They set up the table for bridge but the playing was desultory, yielding honors to conversation. St. had recently visited their married sisters and their families and was constantly remembering minor incidents worthy of recounting.

"The girls sure got themselves queer ducks for husbands, Jig," he remarked. "They don't take after the Allison. But they seem to suit the girls all right so it's none of our neavah min'. It still gives me a jolt, Jig, to remind myself that you are an old married man and a saint papa. I didn't think anything of it when the girls got tied up. You expect it of girls. That's what they're for."

"Speak for your sisters, Mr. Allison. Or haven't you heard that there are variations on the female theme?"

"They are not noticeable, except in face and figure," he said. "When a guy gets married, you always wonder why. When a femme doesn't, you just wonder why not."

"I don't wonder about me then," she said. "I should wait until your interest. I am a why-notter."

"You're young yet," he said deprecatingly.

As her interest grew, her confidence rallied. "What do you think of these two calling you only nephew by the name of Jug?" she asked slyly, ignoring Miriam's startled glance.

"I like it. I couldn't beef even if I didn't. I was the one who christened little brother here by the name of Jigger." He laughed reminiscently. "Did you ever hear Jig's baptismal name?"

"No."

"Well, after the Old Man went to heaven and left me what he couldn't take with him—and it was in hope of that she called me Silas in the first place—she was so fed up with everything about him and me that she swung 'way over to the other side of the pendulum and called the next brat Percy! Pure spite on her part. I had to lug him off for his first day at school and before the day was over I had to wallop the daylight out of three frolicsome pests who wanted to make something of it. I told them his name wasn't Percy at all. That was just his school name, stuck on to please the teachers who like sissy stuff like that. They asked what his real name was and on the spur of the moment the only thing I could think of was Jigger. Maybe a California chigger nipped me at the moment. Anyhow I said his name was Jigger and, if I ever heard him called anything else outside of classes, I'd wallop them for more daylight."

"Did you ever hear it again?"

"No. And before he hit high school he was Jigger on his report cards, too."

(To Be Continued)

"You're in remarkable shape, considering your age," said that gentleman "but you realize, sir, that various infirmities will crop up at this stage of the game. Unfortunately, we doctors have not yet found a way to make men younger."

"I didn't come to you to make me younger," snapped Shaw. "What I want to do is grow older."

In 1947, United States tax payers paid in direct personal taxes more than they spent for new homes, cars, furniture, religious and charitable purposes, private education, medical care and death expenses.

During 1947, softening oil made from silica was used in making better rubber tires that resist heat, weather, chemicals and abrasion.

Mrs. William B. Heffner Complimented By Tea Wednesday Afternoon

Miss Mary Heffner Entertains In Home

Mrs. William B. Heffner of Circleville, the former Miss Janet Pease of Cincinnati, was complimented by Miss Mary E. Heffner at a tea Wednesday afternoon in her East Mound street home.

Guests called within three periods during the afternoon. Tea and refreshments were served from the diningroom table. Presiding at the beautifully appointed table during the afternoon were Mrs. Christian C. Schwarz, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, Miss Bess Fry, Mrs. Joseph Bell and Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr.

Others assisting Miss Heffner were her aunt, Mrs. Alice Moeller, Mrs. Harold O. Grant, Miss Florence Dunton, Miss Marvene Howard, Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs. Mary C. Beck.

Mystery Sisters Reveal Names At Union Guild Meet

Seated around a lighted Christmas tree, Union Guild members and their guests, sang carols by candlelight Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Roy Newlon of Jackson Township entertained the group.

When gifts were exchanged, names of "mystery sisters" were revealed. Mrs. Marvin Routt was in charge of the devotionals. Mrs. Paul Thompson, vice-president, conducted a business meeting. Mrs. Olan Schooley and Mrs. Austin Hoover were selected to prepare a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Mrs. Ellis Evans was named treasurer to replace Mrs. Henry Butts. Mrs. Jacob Conrad was named pianist, to replace Mrs. Fred Riggins. The group decided to have a special meeting Dec. 15 and invite their families for a Christmas party. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kimmel will be hosts for the event in their Jackson Township home. A covered dish supper was scheduled for 6:30 p. m. along with a gift exchange and entertainment for the evening.

Refreshments were served 28 persons by Mrs. Newlon, assisted by Mrs. George Fischer.

Salem WCTU Holds Meeting

Group singing opened the meeting of Salem WCTU preceding a worship service under the direction of Mrs. Edward Hinton, president. Mrs. Anna Rice assisted by Miss Edna Rice were hostess for the meeting Wednesday afternoon in their home on Route 1.

The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison and benediction pronounced by Mrs. Clarence Dumm. The program consisted of several readings and a contest which was won by Mrs. Maude Dodd. Lunch was served by the two hostesses.

Mrs. Frank Graves Hosts Group

Christmas decorations provided a background for the December meeting of Women's Society of Christian Service of Emmett Chapel when the members met Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Graves of the Circleville community.

Mrs. Clarence Maxson and Mrs. Wells Wilson were assisting hostesses. Gift were exchanged and a lunch served.

Household Hints

When you are doing the family ironing, remember that flat pieces should be ironed parallel to selvage edges. Embroidered pieces should be ironed wrong side up. Shirts and blouses should be ironed thus: wrong side of cuffs, right side of cuffs, sleeves, wrong side of collar, right side of collar, yoke, back, front side with buttons, front side with buttonholes. Iron dresses in this order: sleeves, collar, waist and skirt.

In slicing refrigerator cookies for baking, use a thin-bladed.

Coming To Circleville

A Singer Sewing Machine Company representative will be in Circleville one day of each week for sewing machine and vacuum cleaner sales and service.

Past Chief's Club Has Turkey Dinner

Mrs. Fred Newhouse, East Main street, Wednesday evening entertained members of Past Chief's Club of Pythian Sisters for a cooperative turkey dinner.

A lighted Christmas tree provided a background for the pre-holiday party. When gifts were exchanged, names of the "mystery sisters" were revealed.

During the business meeting, officers for the coming year were elected. Miss Clarissa Talbot will serve as president, Mrs. Merl Lape, vice-president, and Mrs. Frank Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Group Plans Caroling

Dec. 22 was set for the date when members of Wesley-Wed Class of First Methodist church will mark the holiday season and go caroling.

This decision was reached when the group had a cooperative supper Wednesday evening in the diningroom of the church. A film on safety was viewed by the group following the meal, entitled "Thirty Seven Different Christmases Throughout The World."

Church Women Book Yule Party

Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church will have a Christmas party Dec. 15 in the church.

An executive board meeting has been scheduled for Sunday morning immediately following worship services. The various circles will hold their group meetings next week in order to complete the year's program.

Party Scheduled

Plans are being made by the local Blue Star Mothers chapter for a Christmas benefit party in the Veterans hospital of Chillicothe. The group has asked the public to join in supplying homemade cookies and candy to be served at that time. Mrs. Ethridge Justice, president, of East Union street is in charge of arrangements. Date for the party has been set tentatively for Dec. 20.

Personals

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook of Park Place were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Gallipolis and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Waldermaier, and daughter, Kathryn Ann, of Chicago.

Gifts will be exchanged by the Pickaway Garden Club group when it holds a dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m. Friday in Presbyterian church.

Mrs. L. W. Curl and Mrs. Bryan Custer of Circleville attended installation ceremonies of the Eastern Star chapter of Urbana.

Mrs. Harley B. Colwell of North Court street left Thursday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will spend the winter months.

If varnished or oiled furniture becomes extremely dirty, or is heavily fingermarked, washing will help. A good homemade furniture cleaner can be made from three tablespoons linseed oil, one tablespoon vinegar and one quart of hot water. Heat the water in the top of a double boiler. Remove it from the stove or any open flame before adding the other ingredients.

YULE CARDS CAN BE FUN

Experts Detail Etiquette On Mailing Yule Cards

The annual exchange of cheerful Christmas cards is one of America's most delightful Yuletide customs. Simple rules of etiquette have been designed to increase holiday enjoyment—and that of people who receive the cards.

Experts who specialize in etiquette say you should start off by bringing your Christmas card list up to date. Don't limit it just to relatives and close friends—include everyone to whom you'd like to extend the warmth and good will of the Christmas season.

Receiving a lovely card from you may be just the thoughtful touch needed to transform a social acquaintance into a fast friend.

Select Christmas cards that reflect your own personality. Send date, traditional greetings are still socially correct, of course. But so are the colorful and clever greetings—including those with a sparkle of gentle humor—that have become so popular in recent years.

If your list is long, you may wish to divide it into two sections, selecting individual cards for your friends and loved ones and then a simple, general greeting for social and business acquaintances.

Let your signature conform to the card's style. If the greeting is gay and informal, married couples may omit the "Mr. and Mrs." and sign simply, "Fred and Nancy Burke." Either the husband's name or the wife's may appear first.

IF THERE are children in your family, don't forget to include their names in the signature—and their ages, too, on cards destined for distant friends.

Write a few lines of personal greeting on each card. They add a warm sincerity and a touch of your individual personality. Let your message be direct and cheerful as a hearty handshake—remember that Christmas is a sentimental and nostalgic season for everyone, including your friends.

Strike a gay note by using colored ink for your signature and the envelope address—the traditional Christmas red, or perhaps a surprising green, bright as holly leaves.

It's best form to send one card to a husband and wife and then separate cards to other adult members of the family, or else use the familiar "family-to-family" style cards. If he's a business acquaintance, send the card to his office unless you know other members of his family.

Writing your return address on the envelope is quite proper, and good insurance against slips of the pen. Also, it's appreciated by friends who may not be as careful as you are in keeping address books up to date.

Finally, look on sending Christmas cards as a delightful experience in spreading holiday cheer and renewing friendships, rather than just a social obligation. It's a lot more fun that way!

Teen Tips

There's safety in numbers, and that's especially true of friends. Nearly every day, we get a letter from a girl who has lost her best friend and doesn't know what to do—win back her friendship or try to find a new pal. While it's a good idea to have a "best" friend, it's even better to have a group of friends.

Popular girls and boys always know lots of people. They can always find someone to go to a movie, a game or a dance, even if their closest friend can't make it. There are times when school work and duties at home mean your friend can't go with you. Friends, even best ones, sometimes move away or find a dream-date who takes all free time. When you know other people, you're not left alone with nothing to do at a time like this.

Besides, a group can do lots more than a twosome—have parties, have a club, go picnicking, dance. You can have double dates, exchange dances and get to know a larger group.

Sometimes high schoolers make the mistake of spending all their time with just one friend or with one small special group. They snub a lot of boys and girls who are just as much fun, just because they're not "in the crowd." They ignore younger acquaintances because of their age. They may seem exclusive at the time, but when their crowd goes off to college, to work or marries, they wish they knew somebody who is still available for a movie or a soda.

Be more generous with your smiles and "Hellos!" at school. The more people you know, the more fun you'll have.

Hog raising is profitable only when 100 pounds of hog on the hoof will bring the price of 12 bushels or more of corn.

Let's tackle this question of saving. It's a habit to a large extent—the man who can't or doesn't save on his present income, won't save no matter how much he makes. Everyone who does save learns it brings satisfaction beyond the things it enables one to buy.

Crowned in solid steel, this smart and handy Estate Wagon sets a new style pattern on either ROADMASTER chassis with 150 hp engine or SUPER chassis with 115 hp (increased to 120 hp by Dynaflo).

Full-curved windshields feature all these models, including this tidy six-passenger Sedan, ROADMASTER or SUPER chassis.

This Roomy 4-Door Sedan seats six, has 22% more glass area. On ROADMASTER or SUPER chassis. White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Looks fine for 49

Extra room—extra view—and Dynaflo too in these bountiful new 1949 Buicks

THIS you're going to like! For its looks—its room—the wonderful view it gives.

Above all, for the happy news that now you can have Dynaflo Drive on the Buick SUPER as well as the Buick ROADMASTER.

In each of these series you have your choice of the four models shown—models sleek and flowing from gleaming grille to faired-in taillights and contoured rear bumpers.

On all of them you have stepped-up visibility from curved windshields and more glass area—area increased by 22% in four-door Sedans.

In all you find ample room made even greater by new cradle-soft seat cushions—and access made easier by wide-swinging doors that are feather-light in action.

There is a rich new instrument panel with glare-shielded instruments. Hood latches are within the car, fabrics are fine and neatly tailored.

And under every bonnet, not only of these new SUPERS and ROADMASTERS but on two trim SPECIAL models too—lively Fireball power cradled on Hi-Poised engine mountings.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

On all ROADMASTERS, with their brilliant 150-hp engines, Dynaflo Drive is standard equipment. On all SUPERS, it is yours on option at extra cost. And with Dynaflo every engine has a plus—new self-setting valve lifters which stay lastingly quiet and factory perfect.

And in all models, there is room, a view, the steadiness and heft of a truly big car—and prices that shine more brightly on every comparison.

Make those comparisons yourself. See what your dollar buys in Buick—and you'll get your order in right now!

BUICK alone has all these features

- Silk-smooth DYNAFLO DRIVE

Berlin Grab To Fail To Oust Allies

Diplomat Says Reds 'Mistaken'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — Undersecretary of State Lovett has declared that the Russians are "mistaken" if they feel that their attempted seizure of authority in Berlin will drive the Allies out of the German capital.

Lovett made his comment at a weekly news conference. It was the first formal United States reaction to the sudden Soviet move which many believe may make impossible a settlement of the Berlin issue.

Lovett emphasized his reaction to this development by permitting himself to be quoted directly. He said:

"If the Soviets feel that this action alters our determination not to be driven out of Berlin by force, they are mistaken."

Other State Department officials privately described the Soviet action as a customary "transparent device which follows a habitual pattern of pressure and intimidation."

IT WAS POINTED out that the same sort of behavior has marked Soviet activities in various satellite states.

The State Department officials recalled that last September when delicate negotiations were going on to lift the Berlin blockade mobs stormed the Berlin city hall and committed other similar acts of terror and intimidation.

Moreover, they said, the present disturbance completely violates a four-power agreement two years ago to hold free elections in Berlin Sunday.

What every Mother should know about Bulbsnatching!

YOU know, of course, that eyestrain can lead to headaches, contribute to poor marks at school. But do you also know that bulbsnatching is an invitation to eyestrain? If Junior squints over his homework, it may be because he had to rob another light socket to get a light to read by—and wound up with an undersized bulb.

Don't take chances. See your nearest dealer today and stock up with plenty of right-size lamp bulbs. Make sure you get enough of the sizes you need—and don't forget to allow for spares. Remember—eyesight is priceless, light is cheap!

Musial Again Is Named Most Valuable In NL

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Stan Musial, hawk-eyed slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, today became the first National Leaguer ever to win the Baseball Writers Association Most Valuable Player award three times.

Musial previously had won in 1943 and 1946 and in being voted in again for his performance during the 1948 season he thus became a three-time most valuable player along with two American Leaguers—Joe DiMaggio and Jimmy Fox.

Musial will receive the Kenesaw Mountain Landis Plaque by a landslide margin in the voting of a 24-man baseball writers committee in the National League cities.

He received 18 first place votes, four second, a third and a fourth.

This compares favorably with the 22 firsts, a second and third Lou Boudreau received recently in winning the American League MVP award for the first time.

THE ONLY surprise in both cases was that neither player received unanimous first place votes.

Of the six dissenters in Musial's case, five voted for Johnny Sain, Braves' pitcher as best and one for Alvin Dark, Braves' shortstop.

These two finished second and third respectively. Behind them in order came Sid Gordon, Cardinals; Pee Wee Reese, Dodgers; Ralph Kiner, Pirates; Enos Slaughter, Cardinals; Danny Murtaugh, Pirates and Stan Rokaj, Pirates.

An analysis of Musial's play discloses why the selecting committee had no trouble in reaching a correct and popular decision.

Here are some of the things the brilliant outfielder did:

He hit .376 to win the batting title for the third time.

His longest batting slump lasted only four days in which he went to bat 13 times without a hit, although he drove outfielders back to the fences for some of his drives.

He opened the season with a remarkable stint in which he went from April 20 to May 31 without going hitless in two successive games.

He hit safely in 121 of the 155 games played. He hit an amazing .412 through the month of June. In 68 games he made at least two hits each, and in 79 games he made at least one extra base hit.

Musial also tied a major league record set by the immortal Ty Cobb in 1922 by getting five hits in five times at bat in five different games.

That, incidentally, is a new National League record. The best previous marks were set by Ed Roush and Fred Lindstrom who went five-for-five on three separate occasions.

Stan fielded his position beautifully. He also ran the bases well and was a constant inspiration to his teammates.

Aside from this he was of virtually no help to the Cardinals.

No wonder the fans called him Mr. Menace. He was all of that to all pitchers.

Hill Gets Mention On All-Ohio '11'

All Seniors Make INS First Team

Harold "Sandy" Hill, who paced the Circleville high school football team to its first perfect season in 28 years, Thursday was given "honorable mention" listing on the 1948 All-Ohio scholastic grid combine selected by International News Service.

Hill, who tallied 112 points through 16 touchdowns and 16 extra points, is only a junior this year. Players who made the All-Ohio INS first team all were seniors.

A high school coach could dream and dream and hardly come up with a better football team than the 1948 INS All-Ohio.

As selected by sports editors and coaches, the INS "dream" eleven has a line in which the lightest man tips the scales at 170.

The backfield is composed of four of the best backs in the state, each of whom led his team in scoring.

JOHN COLCERI, Canton McKinley's great 180-pound half-back, led the balloting and got votes and praise from opponents and proponents alike.

He scored 128 points for the Bulldogs before he was knocked out with a broken collarbone in the next-to-the last game of the season. He might have made the difference between victory and the loss suffered by McKinley to Massillon.

Jim Bailey, Hamilton's left half, was the second backfield choice and was described as "a great and powerful ball carrier and team player as well."

The other two backfield spots in the dream eleven are filled by Jerry Thorpe, the Alliance Aviator deceptive runner; and Dick Shuff, the Mt. Vernon flash who scored 103 points in gaining a net of 1030 yards.

Ends on the INS All-Ohio are Dick Thomas, son of the Martins Ferry football coach, and Bob Grimes, one of the mainstays of the Middletown team that lost only to Hamilton.

Nick O'Brovac, Canton McKinley captain and a 48-minute player, received a greater total of first place votes than did any other lineman. He is teamed up at tackle with Mike Takacs, of Massillon.

Joe Defede, Martins Ferry's 225-pound line mainstay and Bill Shalowsky, of Louisville, were selected for All-Ohio guards a position for which there seemed to be few outstanding nominees.

BOB KANE, of Newark's undefeated Wildcats, nosed out Russ Addison of Alliance for the center post.

The second and third teams also present some outstanding players as does the honorable mention list. Babe Calhoun, Middletown's great backfield ace; Joe Miller, of the Mansfield Tigers, and Al Brown, Massillon captain, are in the second team backfield.

Plenty Of Baseball Interest Found In Far East Countries

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Japan is baseball crazy. China and the Philippines are going in for America's national pastime in a big way, too, according to Former Rear Admiral Giles Stedman, vice-president of the United States Lines, and "baseball commissioner of the Far East."

Stedman's job is similar to that of Happy Chandler in this country.

Stedman said today that baseball is proving to be a "morale builder" and "an outlet" for the youngsters in the Far East.

Stedman has named three commissioners to cooperate with him on baseball in the Far East. They are:

Japan: Major General William F. Marquat.

China: General Claire Chennault, (retired), of the "Flying Tigers" fame.

The Philippines: Charles Parsons, a former American businessman, and war hero. He led the guerrillas in the Philippines during the war.

"The Japanese," said Stedman, "have gone overboard for baseball."

"During the war, Japan banned baseball. But once the war ended and the U. S. occupational forces moved in, the game came back with a bang."

"Today you see them playing baseball among the ruins of Tokyo."

The U. S. businessman said: "The stadiums of Tokyo weren't big enough to handle some of the crowds during the 1948 season."

"The Japanese followed the World Series in the United States this Fall with the utmost interest."

Stedman said that Babe Ruth always has been their baseball idol. They also have a great admiration for Lefty O'Doul, the former major league outfielder.

"On the island of Formosa" the retired admiral declared, there are 1,000 baseball teams and many fine athletes. There are four good league teams on Formosa. He added:

"Japan, China and the Philippines need more baseball equipment. The enthusiasm is there but they haven't the money to buy balls, bats and gloves."

Michigan State Big 9 Bid Is Said Rejected

CHICAGO, Dec. 2—Michigan State's bid for admission to the Western Conference was reported today to have been passed over during a secret meeting of the Big Nine's athletic directors.

The athletic chiefs were said to have discussed the East Lansing school's long-standing application during their conclave with Conference Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson in Chicago but to have taken no action.

It was pointed out that the league's faculty committee, which delayed approval or rejection of the bid last May "inasmuch as the conference's regulations are being revised," has sole authority to rule on the application.

The athletic directors met yesterday in Chicago to complete revision of eligibility rules and restrictions on scholarships.

The new rules and restrictions were submitted to member universities last September and unanimous approval within 60 days is required. Observers believed the members failed to approve the revised code.

Tom Hamilton In Pittsburgh To Hear Wooing

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2—Capt. Tom Hamilton, athletic director for the U. S. Naval Academy, arrived in Pittsburgh today for an on-the-scene reconnaissance to decide if he wants to accept the job of guiding Pitt's athletic activities.

Pitt officials, alumni, students and well-wishers were on hand to court the 42-year-old "No. 1 Choice" for the job with eager hopes that he will accept.

The job is his if he wants it. The board of trustees made that plain following a meeting Tuesday. The chances are that he does want it, although he hasn't said so, and probably won't until after a conference with naval authorities in Washington tomorrow.

The post of Pitt athletic director has been vacant since James Hagan "resigned" last July, and Dr. Norman Oschenhrit, chairman of the Pitt athletic committee, disclosed last night that Hamilton was first approached at that time.

Toughie Brashun Titled 'Dead Duck' On Rollers

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Father Duffy's "Fighting Sixty-Ninth" has seen a lot of things in this strange old world, but never anything quite like Miss Toughie Brashun, currently performing in the roller derby in New York.

Miss Brashun is to the roller derby what Mrs. Henderson is to the Metropolitan Opera. She's a card.

Born an indefinite number of years ago in St. Paul, Minn., with a silver roller skate in her mouth, Miss Brashun collects bruises and contusions to cover her soft and yielding femininity, like some gals collect mink to cover theirs.

She is a Lady Leo Durocher on wheels. She fights with the referee, fights with all and sundry members of the rival team and, just as indiscriminately, with the crowd.

AS A RESULT of which, she gets banged and bumped around, hooted and hissed, like a villain in one of those popular wrestling melodramas so dear to the hearts of television audiences.

Sonia Henie is famed for her interpretation of the ballet "The Dying Swan" on ice skates. Toughie does the "dead duck" on rollers, and is louder and funnier doing it.

The best woman skater of the hip race was a gal named Ivy King, "Poison Ivy." They used to call her. I recall that she wore glasses and she was living proof of Dorothy Parker's observation that men don't make passes at gals who wear glasses.

Mosconi Match Is Scheduled

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—Willie Mosconi, world pocket billiard champion, will stop in Cleveland next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on a leg of his nationwide exhibition tour with Jimmy Caras, former pocket billiard king.

Mosconi and Caras will meet in a 750-point six-block match.

Hospital Tightens Regulations For Visiting Hours

Berger Aide Says Staff Over-Taxed

Too Many Phone Calls, Too, Claim

Mrs. Carolyn Dennis, superintendent of Berger hospital, Thursday revealed her staff is being unnecessarily taxed by visitors who wish to visit patients during "off hours".

She explained that the hospital has no full time desk attendant to handle the well-wishers who drop in "anytime to see the patients, and the regular nurse on duty must drop whatever she may be doing to make explanations."

"However," said the superintendent, "that alone would not be so bad. Another common practice which should be done away with is the repeated calls into the hospital by persons wishing to speak to the patients' visitors."

"Our telephone should be free at all times for hospital business alone."

She pointed out that while she did not wish to antagonize visitors in any way, the hospital is run on a basis of rules and regulations and in a definite pattern.

REGULAR visiting hours in the hospital are as follows:

In the medical and surgical ward visiting hours are established between 1 and 4 p. m. and 7 and 9 p. m. daily and Sunday.

In the maternity ward the hours are from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 and 9 p. m. daily and Sunday.

Only exceptions to the visiting regulations are that critically ill patients may have visitors anytime, and patients to undergo surgery may have visitors prior to the operation.

In all cases, not more than two visitors at a time will be permitted to see any one patient, and in the maternity ward labor patients may receive but one visitor.

No one is permitted to visit at the close of Nov. 26, hit the 122,244.58 set down as expenditure for the year. Balance in the state treasury $265,248.198.94 mark with $13.1ures, the treasurer reported.

Livestock Sale Prices Wobble Although Volume Moves Upward

Prices at the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative Association auctions Wednesday remained steady to a trifle lower although volume of sales increased 470 head.

Volume of sales this week totaled 1,872 head, giving the 470 head increase when compared to last week's volume of 1,402 head.

Prices in the sales fluctuated Wednesday, some categories showing an increase of from $25 to $50 cents while others dropped in proportionate amounts.

Cattle receipts totaled 268 head Wednesday, an increase of 143 head as compared to the 125 marketed last week. Prices for choice grades rose slightly, but lesser grade prices brought the market total down to register a light decrease in total sales.

Hogs receipts reached 1,075 head at this week's market, an increase of 175 head over last Wednesday's sale of 900 head. Price in the market dropped slightly in every category.

Calf receipts also increased this week when 77 head were auctioned to give an increase of 19 head as compared to the 58 sold last week. Choice grades received slightly higher prices as compared to last week's sales, although lesser grades showed decreases.

Sheep and lambs market showed an increase of 133 head Wednesday when 452 head were in the maternity ward other than members of the patient's immediate family, and all visitors must be 16 years old or older.

Boggs said he advised county farmers to take advantage of the loan prior to the expiration date.

"Many farmers today remember the severe decline which they experienced in 1920-21 following World War I when in less than a year farm prices dropped more than 50 percent. Also, consumers will recall that prices they paid did not reflect the 50 percent drop and everyone will recall the final result in 1932.

"The chief cause of a depression is lack of purchasing power by farmers," he concluded.

Loan applications may be filled out in the local AAA offices on East Main street.

Retail Sales Here Far Ahead Of '47 Figure

Retail sales in Pickaway County at the close of Nov. 20, this year, were far in advance of reports for the same period in 1947, according to State Treasurer Don H. Ebright.

Total tax receipts so far this year amount to $199,830.31, an increase of $24,117.92 set in the first 10 and one-half months of 1947. Collections for the same period last year totaled $175,712.39.

For the week ending Nov. 20, Ebright said $4,000.86 in sales

they experienced in 1920-21 following World War I when in less than a year farm prices dropped more than 50 percent. Also, consumers will recall that prices they paid did not reflect the 50 percent drop and everyone will recall the final result in 1932.

"The chief cause of a depression is lack of purchasing power by farmers," he concluded.
